The Daily Courant.

Saturday, July 10. 1784.

London, July 10.
Yesterday arrived the Mail from Holland of Tuesday last.

From the Hague Courant, dated July 16.
Cádiz, June 21.

THE Advice-Ship which sailed last Year from hence to Cartagena, is at length returned: She brings an Account, that she left the Galleons at Portobello, and that the Vent of Goods being very slack throughout all Peru, they cannot soon get in their Lading to come to Europe. We have also Advice from Buenos Aires, that Commerce is at a very low Ebb, by Means of the great Quantities of Goods with which the French have over-stocked the West-Indies. We cannot yet get any Answer from Madrid to the Remonstrances of our Merchants on the new high Duties.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated July 17.

Madrid, June 26. The Secretary Don Joseph Grimaldo came hither some Days ago from the Pardo, with Order for a Council of State to be held in the House of the Marquis de Bedmar, to which were summoned Prince Pio, and the Counts de las Torres and La Rossa. They deliberated in what Manner it might be proper for the King to deal with those of Barcelona, in three several Occurrences; namely, if they should hold out and not submit themselves, 1. Till the Town be entirely invested; 2. Till the Trenches are opened; or, 3. Till Breaches be made for a general Assault. Each Counsellor gave his Opinion in Writing, and Don Joseph Grimaldo is gone back with them to the King. The Farmers-General have received Order to pay into the Military Chest, by way of Anticipation, the Sums which they have engaged to give for their Farms, and one of them has already brought in 200000 Pieces of Eight for his Majesty's Service. The Marquis de Crevecour, the Duke de Havre his Brother, and the Prince de Rodec, are gone Post from hence for Valencia, thence to proceed to the Army before Barcelona, where the first is to serve as Lieutenant-General, and the others as Majors-General under the Duke of Berwick, who is expected there by the end of this Month, and will find every thing ready that was ordered by the President Orri. That Minister was come back to Cartagena in his Way hither, but an Express is sent to him, with Order to return to the Army again, and to take on himself the Care which he had devolved on others, till the Campaign be ended. Men were working to place on Batteries 80 Cannon to make Breaches in the Works of the Place at two Attacks, one against the Gate of Angels, the other against that of Sallis, while 40 Mortars throw Bombs into the Town: In the mean while Deserters reported, that notwithstanding the Devastation made in the Place by Bombs and burning Bullets, the Inhabitants seemed more resolutely bent than ever to hold out to the last Extremity. The English Squadron had been forced by Stress of Weather from the Coast of Catalonia to Alicant, and from thence were sailed to Port Mahon.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated July 17.

Vienna, July 4. Prince Eugene frequently receives Letters from the Marshal de Villars. An Imperial Ordinance is sent to Hungary, commanding all the Protestants who have come to settle there since the Troubles, to depart the Kingdom; and as the Churches which the Protestants built in that Country, or which they appropriated to themselves during those Troubles, are actually taken from them, they have sent Deputies hither to make Remonstrances to the Imperial Court, but it is doubted whether they will succeed.

Frankfort, July 12. We have received Advice that King Stanislaus is arrived at Deux-Ponts, where he was received with great Honours, and complimented by Baron Stralenheim Governor of that Duchy. It is said that Prince will fix his Residence at Meissenheim.

From the Hague Courant, dated July 18.

Dunkirk, July 14. The new Canal is already dug to within three quarters of a Mile of the Downs, or Bank off the Coast, 24 Foot deep, and broad in proportion; The Work is carried on with great Dispatch this dry Weather. The great Sluice, or Balcon, is also dug, and will soon be begun to be faced with Mason's Work; after which the Cut through the Downs will be made, all which it is reckoned will be compleated in October or November: In the mean while, Ships come in here daily from Hamburgh and other Parts, laden with Timber and other Materials.

Amsterdam, July 16. It is advised from Stockholm, that the following English Ships, all bound for Petersbourg, had been taken and sent in thither by the Swedish Cruizers; viz. The Ships whereof are Captains, Cotton, Wood, Norman, Phillips, French, Pine, Creighton, Pott, Cobb, Clark, Salter, Stockdale, King, and two others, besides divers other Merchant-Ships bound to or from Riga, Revel, and other Places.
